

Innovative Future Leaders Programme

IFLP

POWERED BY secbe

Driving Innovation in business across the built environment sector

Are you driving innovation in your business?

Too often businesses resist significant sustained change because of traditional cultures, procurement, delivery processes and poor investment. To thrive, companies must place innovation at their core, driving profitability, client satisfaction, workforce motivation and environmental performance through sustained, meaningful change.

IFLP allows organisations to unlock their full potential. By investing in individual development, businesses create confident, capable teams. Participants learn how to overcome imposter syndrome, manage stress and pressure, delegate with confidence, and motivate their colleagues. The programme also teaches how to break down traditional thinking, fostering collaboration and inviting fresh ideas.

The result? Stronger teams, resilient leaders, and a culture built on innovation and trust.

The programme

IFLP is a six-month programme with three highly interactive two-day residential workshops led by expert innovators. A carefully selected group of high-potential participants from across the construction sector work on real business challenges for their companies while developing their own skills.

- ✔ 6 month programme
- ✔ Action Learning Groups
- ✔ Launch event
- ✔ Coaching
- ✔ 3 x 2-day residential workshops
- ✔ Showcase event

Meet the Team

Led by Sarah Winckless MBE, the golden thread facilitator at IFLP, the team unites a remarkable breadth of expertise.

Participants gain access to exclusive sessions with world-leading innovators and industry trailblazers across technology, sports, the arts, construction, consultancy, retail, procurement, utilities, policy, and government.

It's not just another leadership programme. It's transforming how we think, work and connect. Everyone at every level should experience this for themselves. It's leadership for the future and its changing the industry for good.

Clare Deakin, Senior Business Development Manager, Galliford Try

The key benefits

- ✓ Transforming the industry through empowered leaders
- ✓ Future-proofing your organisation with innovation
- ✓ Improved knowledge and skills of your leaders and their team
- ✓ Motivated leaders driving positive change in the industry

Participants apply new knowledge to address a real business issue driving the individual and the business forward. Participants are coached by the programme team and co-coached by others on the programme to develop relationships in their own business. The programme develops creative problem-solving and leadership, showing why the built environment must innovate and how to lead that change. Participants learn horizon scanning, innovation policies, and how to procure innovation in regulated markets.

IFLP is for you

Emerging, current and future leaders across the built environment

Leaders seeking tools to manage pressure, wellbeing and change

Curious thinkers who want to challenge traditional approaches

Those looking to strengthen communication and collaboration skills

People who want to grow confidence and find their leadership voice

People who want to make a stronger impact in their teams and project

Your contact

Ash Backhouse

IFLP Lead & Business Development Manager
ashley.backhouse@theiflp.org 07852 155913

You can find out more about IFLP by going to www.theiflp.org

Join leading organisations

This has been the most impactful program that I have had the pleasure of participating in throughout my entire career to date.

Dan Whiteland, National Accounts Director, KNAUF

secbe is the home of IFLP, CLOCS & CoTrain leaders in construction

Follow IFLP

